

THE Grapevine

February 2018

THE NEWSLETTER OF FLACKWELL HEATH COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION

EDITOR WANTED

The Grapevine needs a new Editor. I'm retiring in June; by then I will have been Editor for seven years, and before that I helped the previous Editor, Tim Kendell, for five years or so. I feel stale and fear I'm becoming out of touch. The Grapevine needs a fresh mind to continue the job of helping to inform and entertain the people of Flackwell. We have some regular contributors and a couple of occasional writers, a proof-reader, a layout team, a distribution team, – what is needed is an EDITOR! Otherwise the whole system will crumble....

Someone out there must be thinking "I could do that..."

What is required in an Editor? — An interest in Flackwell and a belief that sharing information about life here contributes to everyone's well-being. If people don't know something's on, they may miss a chance to participate, or object, or understand, or buy something. You'd need to be comfortable with email and simple word-processing. It's useful if you can take simple photos (although you can always ask someone else!).

What do you get? A chance to help the community, with flexible time schedules. A chance to do something your own way, with few constraints bar those of legality. You could also bring to the fore aspects of life here that you think have been neglected. Oh, and a wonderful excuse to ask nosy questions!

Please contact either me or Chris Cramer, Chairman of the Flackwell Heath Community Association (FHCA) who publish The Grapevine, if you can help. If you'd like to sit in on the process of putting an issue together, with no commitment implied, that can be arranged. Contact details are on the back page.

50TH ANNIVERSARY FOR JUNIPER HILL

This year at Juniper Hill we will be celebrating our 50th Anniversary and we are planning an event in the summer which will be open to the local community. To mark this milestone we are aiming to have an exhibition highlighting the history of Juniper Hill and we would welcome input from ex-pupils and parents, neighbours, volunteers and anyone with interesting anecdotes, stories or photographs.

If you would like to contribute to our exhibition we would love to hear from you. You can contact us by phone on 01628 523536, via email at office@juniperhill.bucks.sch.uk or you are welcome to pop into the office to speak to us. We are hoping to make this a memorable occasion for the school and community to enjoy.

CHRISTMAS LIGHTS TURNED ON

The Flackwell Heath Residents' Association (FHRA) assisted by the Flackwell Heath Community Association (FHCA) and many helpers from other Flackwell groups put on a celebration as the Christmas lights were turned on at the end of November.

There was a tea for primary school-aged children in the Main Hall at the Community Centre, where the art work from the competition organised by Elizabeth Johncock decorated the walls (see separate article). A group from Anna Rose Dance performed on stage. Father Christmas held court in the Sarney Room. 'Letts', of StreetArtDrop, had very kindly brought his paints for the children to have a go – the results were striking. After tea the Vicar, the Rev Chris Bull, led the crowd in Jubilee Gardens in a Carol Service with the Chiltern Hills Brass Band. The lights were then switched on by the art competition winners.

Afterwards everybody trooped back indoors for mince pies and drinks (mulled wine for adults!). It was hard work but a lot of fun on a cold dark day.

Pictured are Pam Mannering, lead organiser, Father Christmas (a.k.a. Ric Accastello) and two of the experimental artists.

Neighbourhood Watch News February 2018

Distraction Burglary

(The following tips have been drawn from the Thames Valley Police website.) Be careful when opening your door to someone you don't know or aren't expecting. Most callers are genuine, but it's important to be on your guard. Always make sure a caller is who they say they are before letting them into your home, especially if they are not alone. If you don't know them or aren't expecting a caller:

- make sure your back door is locked before answering the front door
- use a door chain when opening the door
- ask for identification and check it carefully before letting anyone in
- if you are on your own, ask them to come back when someone else is at home with you
- direct people asking for help to a nearby shop or other public place. Don't let them in

Always report any suspicious callers to the police on 101.

Thames Valley Alerts

Readers who have been associated with Neighbourhood Watch for a number of years will remember when messages were sent to scheme co-ordinators using the 'Ringmaster' system, and the co-ordinators then distributed relevant messages to their scheme members. The 'Ringmaster' system was replaced by 'Thames Valley Alerts' back in 2011/12, the new system being powered by the Neighbourhood and Home Network (NHNW - <https://www.ourwatch.org.uk/>), a country-wide messaging service run by the VISAV company. This system allows residents and scheme members to 'register' to receive messages from various providers direct via Thames Valley Alerts (TVALerts) and/or via the NHNW.

I have been made aware that some residents of our village may NOT be receiving Alerts sent out by Neighbourhood Watch. For example, in October 2017, I sent out an Alert regarding a bunch of keys (Car & House) found on Swains Lane. I was disappointed not to be able to return them to their rightful owner, and the keys are still in my possession as I write this. Contact me if you think they may be yours – details below.

To ensure that you do receive NHWatch Alerts – on the assumption that you might find them helpful – you need to have 'ticked' the appropriate box when you specified the types of messages you wanted to receive during the registration process with TVALerts.

You can still make this choice by logging on to your Thames Valley Alert Account, selecting 'Information Providers' in the left hand menu under 'Message Settings', and then checking the box against 'Neighbourhood Watch'. Then Log Out to save this and any other changes you have made. Enjoy!

Oasis

Christmas Tea, Santa, carols and a stuffed turkey!

About forty from the Oasis bereavement self-help group had a wonderful pre-Christmas gathering on 6 December. Musical entertainment and accompaniment was provided by Paul Churchouse (piano) and Katie Waistell (flute). We sang carols and Christmas songs, ate Christmas cake and had a visit from a very busy and overworked Santa, who surprised everyone with a gift; one lucky guest received a stuffed turkey. We heard the Christmas story again and enjoyed good company and conversation.

'Oasis' is offered by Christ Church, Flackwell Heath, to all in the locality who have suffered bereavement at any time, either recently or some time ago. It meets on the first and third Wednesday afternoons (Afternoon Group) and second Wednesday evening (Evening Group) in the Christ Church Centre on Chapel Road, and provides a great social opportunity alongside fun activities such as music, craft, talks etc.

'Literary Luminaries of Buckinghamshire and their Secrets', a talk by local author Denise Beddows on Monday 19 February 2018, from 7.30pm, at the Flackwell Heath Library.

Perhaps more than any county outside Greater London, Buckinghamshire has been home to a surprising number of gifted and successful writers throughout the ages. Denise reveals some lesser known and often mildly scandalous facts about some of our famous local writers.

This is a ticketed event. The tickets are available at the library from 9 January 2018, and are £5 (£3 to friends of FHCL). Please note that tickets will not be available on the night.

Fact Finding Forum

The next Fact Finding Forum at the Flackwell Heath Library is on 12 February 2018 from 7.15 – 9pm. If you live in a pre 1920's house and know about the history we would love to hear about it. Also, we will be showing some cine film clips that were taken around Flackwell and the surrounding area. Please feel free to come and join us for a chat, and a cuppa.

The next talk at the Flackwell Heath Library will be on Monday 19 March, from 7.30pm: 'High Wycombe Contribution to Aviation' with Dave Scott. Dave will begin by considering events before WW1, moving on to the manufacture of aeroplane parts by the local furniture factories in WW1. Then he will consider events between the wars, such as Sir Alan Cobham's Flying Circus, Amy Johnson who lived locally, and the Bourne End Flying Field. Finally, the major manufacture of aeroplane parts in the town's furniture factories in WW2, especially the de Havilland Mosquito, will be described.

Appeal Corner

Do you live in a pre-1920's house? To help with our research into the lives of the men named on our war memorials, we have the names of their homes but names of houses often change when sold and the original is lost over time. Can you help by telling us the name of your house between 1910-1920? If you can, please e-mail pattrotter@talktalk.net or phone 01628 524332.

Family History Research - To arrange a research session at the library please contact Gill Kyle on 01494 436314 or by email donkyle@btinternet.com. The sessions cost £2.00 for 50 minutes plus the cost of any photocopying.

Azzurro Training

A Flackwell man believes passionately that more exercise would improve everyone's health (there's a lot of medical evidence to support that belief) and he's taken action.

Matthew Anstey is a chartered physiotherapist, working locally in the NHS. He generally sees two types of patients, those who are recovering from an injury and those who have a chronic problem of some kind. Appropriate exercise can help both groups but, sadly, NHS appointments are often scheduled too far apart to maintain motivation and many people give up before the maximum benefit is achieved. If you have aches, pains or stiffness, and your GP is unable to tell you specifically what the issue is, and simply tells you to rest or take painkillers, that is not getting to the bottom of the problem. Physiotherapy with Matthew might help you get back to the activities you enjoy quickly and naturally.

On the other hand, some people reach their initial goal and want to keep exercising but find the thought of a public gym full of fit young athletes off-putting.

A year ago Matthew set up Azzurro Training in premises in Bourne End near the Cores End roundabout. There is a private exercise studio with a full range of equipment and a private room where Matthew holds consultations and performs some treatments e.g. sports massage, mobilisations, tractions. Outside is a sizeable grassy area, not overlooked, for use in fine weather (boot camps in summer!). Matthew is the only physiotherapist, but there are three personal trainers, Isabella Beni, Kai Smith and Aidan Cruickshank, all qualified to a minimum of level 3 personal training and registered with their professional body, REPS. The four of them work as a team according to the particular needs of their clients. Some may want to return to active sports, others want to carry out their daily lives more easily. Usually the maximum number of clients in the studio at any one time is three. Outcomes are tracked.

Matthew has always been an active participant in sports, including rugby and swimming when at school and as a university undergraduate; these days he's into running, and he holds a running clinic on one evening a week.

Attendance at the studio is by appointment only because there is no membership base and for training you must be over 16 years of age.

If you think some personal attention might be just the thing, contact info@azzurrotraining.com or ring Matthew on 07903 416 585.

Competition

In the December issue, we had a competition. The idea was to get people using their eyes locally, preferably to solve clues whose answers were not available by Googling.

Obviously, this was too much to ask – we didn't get a single entry! The questions and answers are given below:

Q: Date of foundation of the earliest chapel in Flackwell Heath. A: 1843, visible on plaque on wall of building in Fairview Lane.

Q: Address of Jamiroquai mural. A: 23 Whitepit Lane.

Q: Where can you see a mural of a foreign field? A: Outside wall of British Legion in Common Road.

Q: How many claws on the front foot of a green dragon? A: Three, as on sign at pub The Green Dragon, at corner of Blind Lane and Green Dragon Lane.

Q: Answer the clue in the noticeboard. The clue was in the glass-fronted noticeboard at the Community Centre. It was 'Therein page 5 spread?'. And the answer (an anagram of the first 3 words): 'The Grapevine' of course!

Sadly this lack of interest means no-one can enjoy the artwork that StreetArtDrop was willing to donate to the winner.

Minors Celebrate with Girls!

Flackwell Heath Minors, who are celebrating their 50th birthday, have started training sessions for girls on Saturday mornings with the aim of building some teams and starting to play matches against other clubs.

We've been thinking about it for a while and we do have some girls playing for us already, but we've never had a girls' group and we thought it was about time we did something about it. The response has been fantastic, the girls are really enjoying it. If your daughter might be interested, contact Chairman Declan Breen on:

Morning WI

In December we were entertained by Year 6 pupils from Carrington School, who told the Christmas story with readings, limericks and carols. A very good performance by all.

We had fewer than usual members at our January meeting (perhaps too soon after New Year's Day), but we had a final discussion and votes on the issues to be short-listed for possible WI campaigns in the future. A quiz followed and there was plenty of time for a chat. Also in January we are having lunch at Wycombe Heights Golf Club.

Next month the speaker, Denise Beddowes, talks about 'Spies and Subversives'.

Evening WI

Our December speaker, Peter Hague, told us about 'Yorkshire Customs'. This big and populous county certainly enjoys doing its own thing!

On a dark January evening, it was good to be transported to another part of the world. Sheila Keatinge had visited Madagascar primarily to see the lemurs, species unique to this large island. She showed us some videos she had made of these very appealing creatures, and plenty of photos of other indigenous wildlife such as chameleons, frogs and birds. She was also interested in the lives of the human population, whether growing rice, making bricks, walking to church or catering to tourists with handicrafts, e.g. miniature bicycles, aluminium ornaments, fibre models.

Our craft stall at the Charity Fayre did well. The book group and the food group continue. At the end of January, we intend to go out for a post-Christmas lunch at La Bodega.

The February speaker is Professor Simon Bearder, whose topic is 'Were we once Water-Babies?'.
