DOUBLE ATTACK AT VILLAGE SHOPS

Police investigations have been launched following attacks at two local shops in the same week. The crimes are not believed to be connected.

In the first, newsagent Siva Nadaragh at Unit 4 was surprised by two men wearing balaclavas - one wielding a knife – who entered the shop just before 9.30pm on Monday 29 April.

Siva suffered a small cut to the side of his body in the scuffle, but fortunately was not seriously injured. The two male offenders left empty handed.

The first man is described as being 5ft 7ins tall, wearing a grey tracksuit and black puffer jacket with the hood up. The second man is described as 5ft 6ins and was also wearing a black puffer jacket with the hood up and tightened to his face. He is thought to have been wearing black trousers and a cap, possibly with a white patch or reflective patch on it.

Police believe the two men were hanging around the area for at least 20 minutes before the incident. They may also have been in the recreation park on Straight Bit and nearby alleyways leading up to the attack.

Anyone with information is urged to get in touch with Thames Valley Police on 101, quoting reference 43190128633.

In the second attack at Sainsbury's supermarket, no one was injured as the criminals struck in the early hours of Friday 3 May. A panel of glass in the window was removed by the offenders who broke in and stole tobacco and cigarettes.

Supermarket Manager, Shayan Tahir, had only joined the store 6 weeks prior to the attack and was on paternity leave at the time. He said that he had been very impressed with his colleagues' handling of the incident.

"I am really very proud of the team. It was a big shock, especially for those who were first in to work on the Friday morning. When they saw the broken glass they weren't sure at first if the criminals had left the store, but they handled the incident in a calm and professional manner."

Police have appealed for anyone who has information or CCTV in the area of Sainsbury's to please call 101, quoting reference 43190132556.

Spring makeover down to teamwork

Threatening rain clouds and breezy conditions did little to deter the hardy volunteers at the village Litter Pick and Gardening extravaganza in April.

Working from two bases at Jubilee Gardens and Green Dragon Lane, Flackwell Heath Residents' Association was supported by partners Flackwell Heath Minors, who provided legions of Litter Pickers and Simply Waste, who donated bags and bins and made life much easier. In the meantime, gardeners toiled away at Jubilee Gardens, so it looked much improved afterwards. FHRA also ran a BBQ at Green Dragon Lane - a satisfying way to round up the hard work!

Perhaps you're an organisation in the village that would like to help out at the Autumn Litter Pick. Let us know at info@flackwellresidents.news

Centre is on a roll

Flackwell Heath's Community Centre is going from strength to strength after a comprehensive round of refurbishments over the past year, ensuring it continues to best serve the needs of the local community.

The Flackwell Heath Community Association (FHCA), who manage the Centre, has seen bookings remain as popular as ever with a steady stream of birthday parties and other gatherings held there each weekend. Although there are still a few available slots through the week, most week days and every weekday evening are solidly booked. Even with the recent financial outlay for repairs, charges to regular users of the premises still remain the same as they have for the past 15 years.

In the past 12 months the Centre has had its interior repainted, exterior weather boarding and doors mended and painted, a new microphone and chairs supplied for the Sarney Room and the large trees around the perimeter of the grounds have been pruned.

The FHCA is a largely self-funded charity, relying heavily on bookings of the Community Centre for its financial income. Chairman Christine Cramer told the recent Annual General Meeting that careful management of the funds, plus donations have led to a healthy financial status for 2019.

"We are extremely grateful to Wycombe District Councillors David Johncock and John Savage who generously donated the funds to cover the purchase of the new chairs. Recently, we also received a substantial anonymous donation for the Community Centre and Day Centre for

Families are reaping what they sow

There aren't many pastimes and interests that can claim to span the generations, but gardening is certainly one, as can be seen at the village allotments in Chapel Road.

Roy and Tom at their allotment

Once considered to be the primary domain of the retired, the joys of 'growing your own' are now experiencing something of a resurgence in popularity with families. It's easy to see why when you consider the increasing demand for locally grown produce. What can be more sensible, or satisfying, than produce taken straight from the ground to the dinner plate.

Plus, as a healthy and cost-effective way of providing the recommended 5 (or more) servings of fruit and vegetables per day, it's no wonder allotments are a popular choice with families.

Rookie gardeners needn't be put off from taking the plunge. There's a warm welcome for new allotment holders and plenty of advice, if required. Chairwoman of the Flackwell Heath Allotment Association, Linda Lewis, is encouraging of all, regardless of their green-fingered expertise. She says: "It really is quite therapeutic. Time spent on the allotment is a great way to unwind, there's usually someone to say 'hello' to and exchange tips. It's also a fabulous way to relax, the time flies when you are up here enjoying the fresh air and the wildlife you can see."

Roy King started with one allotment before taking over his neighbour's plot when it became available. He grows a wide range of fruit, vegetables and flowers. Such is his love for gardening that his eight year old grandson, Tom, has also taken to it wholeheartedly.

"I love tending our allotment. Sweetcorn is my favourite, but this year, I am growing runner beans. We always have plenty of fruit to make jam, too," says Tom, who attends Juniper Hill School.

Surplus fruit and veg cannot be sold to the public under the terms of the council agreement, but a lot of swapping and gifting of produce between the allotment holders is common. There are social get togethers too. The summer barbecue is a particular highlight of the calendar.

If you would be interested in having an allotment, contact the parish clerk Wendy Thompson for more details at clerk@CWPC.org.uk or call on 01494 814600.

which we are giving a lot of consideration to decide how best to use."

There's always plenty of activities for all ages on offer at the Community Centre. For details and bookings go to the website: flackwellheathcommunitycentre.org.uk

The talk will cover how secretive establishments in the High Wycombe area helped shorten the war by their interpretation of air reconnaissance for passing on to the military.

Several secretive units, including Operation Hillside Hughenden Manor, laid claim to their contributions significantly shortening the war. Hopefully this talk will prove that the UK's superior use of air reconnaissance did just that.

Football Season Round up

As the 2018/19 Football season draws to a close, Grapevine asked David Gregory, Vice-Chairman of Flackwell Heath Football club, to reflect on the season so far and his hopes for the future.

"We have had a mixed bag of results," admits David. "We beat this year's league winners Wantage Town at home and away and ended the season in the top 3rd of the Hellenic Premier Division. We got to the semi-final of the Senior Bucks & Berks Cup and played Championship side Reading FC (U23). We had a great crowd then and gave Reading a tough game going into half time 1-0 up and only narrowly losing 2-1." He also reckons the club is in a good place going forward. "We have a young side which looks promising for next season."

The club, founded in 1907, is very much a village institution, but one that isn't always easy to find. "We are tucked away in the middle of the village in Magpie Lane. The club moved to Wilks Park in 1956, the ground donated by the Wilks family. It's worth the effort though. You get to enjoy grassroots football at its best and we serve award-winning chips!" says David.

The club has great plans for the future. A new Groundsman shed and compound will be ready for the new season. A longer term plan is to build a new stand and changing facilities with seating above for 120 fans. It's not just the infrastructure, though. There will be a closer bond with the younger footie players too. "We have agreed with Flackwell Heath Minors to hold their U15 & 16 Teams home games on Sundays at Wilks Park. We can pool resources and commercial expertise for fundraising and access to grants, encourage participation, involvement and support throughout the local community and develop a pathway for players to progress through the club to senior level."

Apart from football, there are numerous social events held at the club house, including Bingo, Race and Boxing Nights, as well as a Family Fun day. The club house with its licenced bar is available for private hire. (Contact Terry Glynn 07932-952538 or Jo Parsons on 07984-199878)

Flackwell Heath Women's Institute

Both Institutes meet at the Community Centre and as part of their support of the Centre provided cakes for the FHCA's Volunteers' Tea Party. A varied selection contributed to a very friendly occasion.

Both Institutes have discussed the two resolutions coming before the Nation Federation of WIs at their Annual Meeting in June. They cover raising a) awareness and take-up of the cervical smear test for indications of possible pre-cancerous conditions and b) improvement in rural bus services.

Evening WI

Two members had been to a briefing meeting on the resolutions and presented them to members.

A doctor from Public Health had explained the current position on cervical screening – coverage has fallen and lives are being lost unnecessarily. Members could encourage take-up among themselves, their families and the community. Our members voted FOR the resolution.

The resolution on rural bus services basically asked for more money. While members agreed that improved access to various services was highly desirable, some were unconvinced that more money was the answer. (What about services coming to people, green issues, subsidies for alternative transport...?) A majority of members voted AGAINST.

Next month Jeremy Holmes will discuss 'Epic Failures' - sounds intriguing!

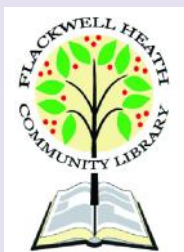

Morning WI

Along with every other WI this month, we discussed the two issues going forward to the National Federation's Annual Meeting, namely cuts in local bus services and the importance of cervical smear tests.

Both were voted in favour after some considerable debate.

Next month's speaker is Graham Horn, (also a Blue Badge guide) on his experiences taking 'A long walk across England'.

the recipient to take some compromising financial action.

'VISHING' – it's the name of the game

Whilst I am sure that other crimes are happening, it does seem that Cybercrime – in its many forms - is what we are most likely to hear about or even experience.

'Vishing' is the name coined for the telephone equivalent of 'phishing' using emails. Sadly, the fraudsters seem able to bypass the Telephone Preference Service (TPS) by 'spoofing' legitimate phone numbers, and much more robust methods are necessary to stop these unwanted phone calls reaching us.

The main objective of a 'vishing' phone call, is to frighten us into making a hasty decision and parting with bank or card details in an attempt to avoid the action threatened by the caller. In the past few weeks I have been made aware of 'vishing' calls claiming to be from BT, TalkTalk, Microsoft, to name but three.

The gist of the message is generally that 'your privacy has been compromised....', 'there is an issue with your broadband connection that needs resolving.....', your computer has acquired a piece of malware.....', etc., requiring you to select from options by pressing buttons on the phone's keypad. Fortunately, none of my callers have taken this option, but it is highly likely that the call would be transferred to the fraudster, who would then 'crank up' the pressure on

The majority of telephone service providers are now offering some form of call-blocking service, generally at no cost, eg. BT Call Protect, TalkTalk CallSafe, etc. These systems appear to be more successful at blocking unwanted calls than the TPS. Some mobile phone services also offer similar call-blocking services – talk to your phone provider. These systems are 'tailored' to your phone usage and can generally be managed online.

There is a simple solution to all 'vishing' calls – HANG UP!

Girls Football team tops the League

On 7 June the 2019 Women's World Cup kicks off in France, the English Lionesses will be one of the favourites to lift the trophy and more and more fans back home will be willing them on.

Back in Flackwell we have our own Lionesses...and Dragons - Flackwell Heath Lionesses and Flackwell Heath Dragons are the Under 12 Flackwell Girls' teams and we also have our own under 10's girls team.

Girls football is growing rapidly in the UK and Flackwell Heath Minors FC having 'kicked off' girls football in 2017 are seeing the number of girls wanting to get involved increasing month on month.

This season was our first step into competitive football at Under 12's, with regular league and cup matches each week. What a season we've had! Both Under 12 teams got to the Cup Semi-Finals and the Dragons eventually lost in the Final. However they went on to win the league which has been a fantastic performance in their first competitive season.

It's a boy!

There were no more enthusiastic supporters of the arrival of royal baby, Archie, last month than the creative team at Rennie Grove charity shop.

Always keen to decorate their shop windows with topical displays, volunteer Tracy Martin was behind this fabulous effort. Manageress Ann Rarity explained that the idea for the display came after they were donated face masks of the Duke and Duchess of Sussex.

"Tracy was quick to spot the opportunity for an eye-catching display and did a marvellous job. It started as a display with all sorts of baby items then as soon as the news broke on 7 May, Tracy hung up the 'It's a Boy' bunting and wrapped the Moses basket in a blue blanket. Customers have loved it!"

I found a mouse...where?

Does this little furry fellow look familiar? The toy mouse is currently residing at the home of the Wells family in Sedgmoor Road after being dropped from the beak of a Red Kite swooping over their garden.

Jill Wells told us: "The bird must have spotted the toy somewhere, maybe thinking it was a real mouse and then realising its mistake, dropped it in our garden!" A reunion can be arranged by contacting the Grapevine – details below.

Fete & Picnic

It's time once again for the popular village Fete and Picnic on Sunday 14 July from 12 noon to 4pm at the Recreation Ground, Straight Bit. Pack a picnic, bring a blanket and come along with family and friends to enjoy a fun afternoon.

We have a couple of additions to this year's entertainment, with an open mic session provided by Reeve and an all girls' football match between Carrington & Juniper. There will also be a boys' match and there will be a variety of other games and activities for children, including a Punch & Judy show. If you forget a picnic, don't worry, the FHRA and other stall holders will be providing hot & cold liquid refreshments, food stalls and BBQ.

CALLING NEW STALLHOLDERS - Are there any families, or individuals who would like to have a stall at the event? Please get in touch via our Facebook page, or email as per below.

AGM

FHRA's AGM took place at the end of April. As Chloë will soon be moving away, she didn't stand again as Chairman and I have taken over from her. John Mannering has replaced me as Treasurer – thank you John! Other members of the Team remain in place.

Join the team?

We all enjoy what we do at the FHRA (or we wouldn't do it) and we'd love to have some extra support from you. As with most things, the more, the merrier! All help is entirely voluntary and you can get involved in as little, or as much, as you like.

I look forward to seeing you at the Fete & Picnic, if not before!
