THE NEWSLETTER OF FLACKWELL HEATH COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION

There's still no end in sight

It promises to be a long hard summer for retailers in Straight Bit after hearing that reinstatement work to the sinkhole outside their shops will not be completed any time soon.

Residents and shop owners are growing ever more frustrated by the gaping hole which first appeared last year. Despite fixing a number of water leaks underneath ground level, further work has been held up while insurers run extensive investigations and examine different options to infill and make good the pavement.

Insurance brokers Christopher Trigg Limited have stated that it will take around two months until they are ready to instruct contractors to carry out the work.

Siva Nadarajah from Unit 4 newsagents has said that business has been difficult as a result. "It seems there have been so many setbacks to getting the job done and now we are nearing a year with still no end in sight.

"Customers are fed up and it has definitely affected my business."

Stephanie Tarrant from Lambert Chartered Surveyors, the management company for Aries House, said: "We are still waiting on engineers to notify our insurers whether the water leaks caused the hole or vice versa. We can understand how frustrating it is for everyone, it has certainly become a costly and lengthy process."

One local resident, who did not wish to be named, summed it up. "It's an eyesore. I can't believe it has taken so long to fix."

Siva added: "It is very disappointing to hear that we will have to put up with this for the entire summer."

Jolly green giant

Meet the latest team member of the Flackwell Heath Minors Football Club. Hobbo the dragon made his maiden appearance at the Festival of Football tournament last month, much to the delight of everyone.

The 6 foot high green dragon was chosen as the club's new mascot since the team plays at Green Dragon Lane. The name, Hobbo, was chosen to commemorate Mark Hobbs, a past president of the club and long-standing supporter of both Flackwell Heath FC and the Minors.

Mark's mum Christine - a founder of the Minors Club - and sister Mia Pullen, were introduced to Hobbo at the tournament.

Declan Breen, Chairman of Flackwell Heath Minors FC said afterwards: "I think they were delighted to meet Hobbo and we were certainly delighted to have them come along on the day!"

Look out for the cuddly character when it makes an appearance at the village picnic on Sunday 15 July.

Show of Support for Shop

Retailers have rallied around to show their support for staff at the Betfred betting shop following a robbery there in May.

Manager Alan Clarke, said: "Everyone has been very encouraging. It's good to know that we are all looking out for each other, so if any of us suspect anything suspicious in the future we can share the details." He added that extra security measures have been put in place at the shop to minimise the chances of the same thing happening again.

A robber armed with a knife struck at the Straight Bit shop at around 9.30pm on 17 May. He climbed over the counter and escaped with a large amount of cash from the safe.

Police believe that the attack was an isolated incident and appealed for any witnesses to get in touch.

* At the time of going to press a man was helping police with their enquiries into the incident.

Flackwell Heath Women's Institute

At the National WI meeting in Cardiff, the resolution on Mental Health was passed by a very large majority – so the Evening WI was one of a very few who voted Against [and the Morning WI was with the majority].

Morning WI

In June we had a good attendance and members were entertained by a familiar speaker, Colin Oakes with his talk on Swinging London in the 1960's.

Next month it will be Hugh Grainger on 'Amazing Frauds and Swindles' - quite a contrast.

Brenda Aldridge

Evening WI

The speaker at our June meeting was Jeff Rozelaar, who reminisced about his boyhood and family in the East End. He 'illustrated' his talk with the occasional song, wearing one of about 6 appropriate hats or caps – amazingly evocative.

Pat Kendell and Jackey Hill had been on a course at Denman College on 'Wet Felting', a technique new to them both. They displayed some of their work and had achieved some surprising effects.

Six members had raised money for ACWW (Associated Countrywomen of the World) by walking to The Bounty and having a pub lunch on a lovely sunny day.

Next month, Ian Jones will tell us how he served in Bomb Disposal for 40 Years and still has 10 fingers!

GDPR and You

I am sure, you will all be aware that new data protection legislation, General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR), came into effect on 25 May 2018 requiring UK and EU organisations to clearly state what they use your personal data for and what your rights are when it comes to data and its use. This Regulation applies to all businesses and charities, including the FHCA. As Chairman of the Flackwell Heath Community Association, I would therefore like to draw your attention to the Privacy Notice and Privacy and Data Protection Policy that we, the FHCA Committee, have recently posted on the FHCA website.

Neighbourhood Watch News

GDPR

Those of us who use the Internet for shopping, etc.

will have been inundated with emails relating to the NEW General Data Protection Regulations (GDPR) which were implemented in the UK on 25 May. If you have accounts with retailers and other organisations not necessarily 'online', then you will have received similar letters in the post. Although on the face of it, these new regulations may seem a bit onerous, their intention is to provide us – the consumer – with much more control over how information about us is gathered, stored, used and ultimately deleted.

However, criminals have created fake emails telling customers their accounts could be terminated if they do not update their records, at which point they are directed to a site which steals any data they input. Be extremely cautious when responding to GDPR emails. Check their authenticity.

As far as Neighbourhood Watch is concerned, if you are already a scheme member, or if you are currently registered to receive TVALerts, YOU have given us – and the Police – information relating to yourself and have effectively authorised these organisations to use this information to manage NHWatch/Police activities. However, any NEW members will have to complete a 'Consent Form' unless they are able to sign-up online. Scheme Co-ordinators become 'Data Controllers' within the GDPR and will have to ensure that they manage the information they hold about scheme membership in an appropriate and secure way. Details regarding the impact of the GDPR on NHWatch were issued as a TVALert on 21 May, 2018 (Message 220861)

Thames Valley Alerts from the Police

There are a number of residents in our village who have registered to receive TVALerts from the police, but who appear on the Neighbourhood & Home Watch Database – which is used by the police – as either having 'Comms Issues' or as being 'Incommunicado'.

'Comms Issues' means that the system has been working but for some reason has stopped. This can often be because the recipient has changed their e-mail address and not updated their information on their 'Personal Details' page of the Alerts website.

'Incommunicado' is rather more serious, as it means that the system has been unable to establish communications with the user. More often than not, it results from a lack of 'verification' of an e-mail address. When you first register an e-mail address with TVALerts – or change your e-mail address – the system automatically sends you a 'Verification' request to which you MUST reply in order for the address to be confirmed.

If you think you should be receiving TVALerts – or have been receiving them but they have stopped – then I suggest that you check your 'registration' with TVALerts on the Thames Valley Police website (or the Neighbourhood & Home Watch Network [NHWN] if appropriate), and make sure that all the information for yourself is correct. The 'Mischief Makers' Summer Reading Challenge is inspired by the 80th Anniversary of the Beano, and encourages children to continue reading for pleasure throughout the school summer holidays. Children follow Dennis the Menace and friends and collect stickers when they have read a book. Then they solve clues to find a mysterious buried treasure and become the ultimate mischief maker once they have completed the goal of reading 6 books. They will receive a medal on completion.

Call into the library for full details and to register.

Volunteer who is making a big impact

Did you know in the last year, over 175,000 people volunteered in Buckinghamshire? Such volunteers make a vast contribution to the local community. But running a charity - getting started, raising funding and understanding the regulatory environment - is no easy matter. Long-time Flackwell Heath resident, Helen Cracknell, works for Community Impact Bucks (CIB), an organisation set up to provide support for charities in Buckinghamshire.

CIB, a charity itself, provides an extensive training and events programme designed to equip charities and community groups with the skills they need. From free of charge advice

Christian Aid week

Thank you to everyone who supported the Christian Aid collection and fundraising in Flackwell Heath in May. It raised a staggering £3040.

For more than 70 years, Christian Aid has been helping change the lives of people, of all faiths and none, living in poverty around the world. It is currently working in 37 countries with 475 partner organisations. And during Christian Aid week this year (May 13-19) our village played its part and truly made a difference! The door-to-door collection, organised by Christ Church, made £1836.61 and, when combined with the 'Bread & Cheese Lunch' on Tuesday 15 May and the 'Plant Sale, Car Wash, Cake Stall & Refreshments + Royal Wedding event' on Saturday 19, made a grand total of £3039.46.

Money raised is sent through partner organisations that are best placed to make sure it goes to those who need it most. To find out how your generosity is being used visit:

sessions to full-day conferences, the range of offerings are extensive, with all training costs heavily subsidised for local non-profit organisations.

In her role with CIB, Helen uses her experience and knowledge to help local community groups and charities set up and run more effectively and to access funding opportunities and other support available. Helen, who has worked at CIB since 2014, says: "Since joining Community Impact Bucks, I have been amazed by the variety of wonderful things that people are doing in their communities and it is very satisfying to be able to help them in some small way."

The Beautiful game

Flackwell Heath Minors FC hosted another hugely successful 'Festival of Football' at the beginning of June.

The club welcomed over 220 teams - that's over 1,700 boys and girls - to Green Dragon Lane.

"The sun shone all weekend, there was some fantastic football played and we raised much needed funds for the club," said Declan Breen, Chairman of Flackwell Heath Minors.

"A big thank you to all our sponsors, especially our club sponsor Simply Waste Solutions, who provided all the bins so the place was left spotless and litter free.

"We'd also like to thank all our coaches, players, parents and village friends, who without their help would not make it possible to host such a fabulous event."

Flackwell Heath Minors would love to hear from you if your son or daughter would like to join our club.

Coffee Stop at Christ Church

Despite school closing soon for summer, the popular Coffee Stop will remain open on Wednesday mornings during the summer holidays and here Alison Peach reveals more about this cheery place...

Many of you will have seen the sign outside Christ Church on mornings in term time advertising Coffee Stop.

In 2002 the new Church Centre was opened and it was the vision of one person in particular for the new building to have its doors open for the community. So for two weeks in December that year, a team of helpers served coffee to the community every morning from the back hall, with the intention of continuing if it was deemed to be successful.

Such was the success that from January 2003, Coffee Stop was born, but served from the foyer in front of the Church where it was visible from the road. It was seen as a bridge between the community and the Church, that was to be welcoming and accessible, and free to all, not a fundraiser, but running only on donations. In fact they have found that the donations always cover the costs, leaving enough to occasionally buy new equipment or mugs.

A group of three oversee the day-to-day running of it, but they have a team of 30 regular helpers, (three of whom have been volunteering for the whole fifteen years). Some help once or twice a week, others once a month. Ideally they have three or four helpers daily, leaving some to make coffee and others free to chat to people. They are committed to serving Fair Trade coffee and tea, with biscuits and, once a week, home-made cakes are on offer.

Jane Franklin, who is one of the three organisers, says that some people have been coming in regularly for the last fifteen years. They have parents, grandparents and child-minders who come in after dropping the children off at school as well as many other members of the community and groups who use it as a meeting point. In fact there are mums who started going for coffee when their children were at Carrington, whose children have long since moved into secondary education or even the world of work, but who still choose to meet there regularly. Young children are welcome and there are toys available.

It also supports other Church activities that run in the mornings, providing refreshments for them. Up until recently there was a large Keep Fit class and Alpha and parenting courses that run for a limited number of weeks at a time. Near Christmas one-off events such as flower arranging are supported by Coffee Stop.

The children at Carrington Infant School who are in the Department for those with specific learning disabilities are regular visitors, as are some of the adults from a day-centre in High Wycombe.

The day I called in there was a real buzz of chat and laughter, and a lovely, relaxed atmosphere. Jane said: "We really want to engage with people, and, if they want it, to offer time to chat or a listening ear. Occasionally we offer to pray for someone if we think it might help them."

A new project that is only in its second month is on the second Tuesday of the month, when soup, bread and a cup of coffee is on offer from mid-day and this has got off to a popular beginning.

Coffee Stop is open Monday to Friday in term-time and Wednesdays only in the school holidays. Coffee is served from 8.45am – 11.30am.

Fete & Picnic – Sunday 15 July 2018

It's time for the village get together as we enjoy this year's Fete and Picnic on Sunday 15 July at the Recreation Ground, Straight Bit. Pack a picnic, bring a blanket and come along with family and friends to enjoy a fun afternoon.

There will be a blend of entertainment provided by a variety of local musicians and performers. There will be bouncy castles, games and activities for the children and a variety of teas, drinks and light refreshments available.

Chepping Wycombe Parish Council – VACANCY

There is a vacancy for a Parish Councillor to join the other six Parish Councillors who represent Flackwell Heath. If this is something you'd like to consider, please contact Carolyn Leonard on 01628 526547.

Public Phone Box in Common Road

FHRA raised the profile of the proposal to remove the public phone box in Common Road, and subsequently WDC formally objected to the proposal. Our local voices count and hopefully you will have noticed the new one which has been put in place of the old HSBC kiosk.

New Local Plan

The Secretary of State has appointed Planning Inspector Nicola Gulley to conduct an examination of the soundness and legal compliance of the Plan.

The Hearing Sessions will commence on Monday 16 July in the Council Chamber in Wycombe. There are two blocks of two weeks the first from 16 July and the second from 3rd September.

Only those of you who have submitted comments regarding the final version of the Plan have the opportunity to make further written comments or speak at the hearings. If you qualify you should have already had details of how to do this. Needless to say, FHRA have been invited to participate in this next stage of the process.

Look forward to seeing you at the Fete & Picnic!

Diabetes Day

Thanks to all those who attended the Diabetes Fun Day at the home of Carol Bailey in Blind Lane last month. A very impressive £2,713.82 was raised.

Among the many businesses that added their support to the day were Flackwell locals: Cakes by Justine, The Cherry Tree, Cleopatra, Daisy Gift Shop, Flackwell's fair price food and news, Mitzi's, Nick G's and Sainsbury's.

"I would like to thank everyone who helped including my family and all those that turned up, or simply donated money," said Carol. "The day would not have worked without you all."
