THE NEWSLETTER OF FLACKWELL HEATH COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION

Festival of Football 2025

The Minors' annual six a side football tournament has been hailed as another great success for the club with loads of great football played in the glorious sunshine all weekend.

Over 240 teams of girls and boys took part from all over Bucks, Berks and beyond and there was some fabulous football to watch.

It was great to see so many familiar faces from the village over the weekend who came along to meet with friends and family, watch some football...and maybe a Pimms!

We've already had some great feedback from endless teams that have already said they'll be back next year and we've managed to break all our previous fundraising records which will help us to continue to provide a safe footballing environment for over 500 girls and boys and improve facilities at Green Dragon Lane.

We couldn't have done it without the help of our committee and coaches, village friends, players and their parents, Flackwell Heath Cubs & Scouts, Juniper Hill School and FHRA and all of our tournament sponsors – THANK YOU!

From Cherry Fayre to Heath Fest

20 years ago, a decision was taken to revive the old Cherry Fayre, a village tradition to mark the cherry harvest in Flackwell Heath which ceased in the late 1900s. The new Cherry Fayre was organised by the Residents' Association with the idea of a parade involving Chitty Chitty Bang Bang (which could be found parked in Craig's drive). The event took place on the recreation ground and the whole endeavour was a great success but hard work; subsequently it was given over to a Cherry Fayre committee headed by Terry Darby. In the ensuing years, as well as commercial and volunteer-run stalls and fairground rides, there was always a theme; medieval, 1940s, fairy tales, royalty with a lookalike Queen Elizabeth II, cowboys, a circus. Then there was the hotly contested tug of war and the Juniper versus Carrington football contest. The last modern-day Cherry Fayre took place in 2013 but, over its 9 years, it raised over £30,000 for local good causes.

Village Picnic

The Grapevine reported the first modern cherry fayre in September 2005

So what then? Enter the Village Picnic, organised jointly by the Residents' Association and the Community Association. A slightly lower key affair with fewer commercial activities, this was nevertheless an enjoyable and inexpensive outing for families of all ages. Over the years the Village Picnics featured the traditional schools' football match, a bouncy castle, face-painting, dog agility courses, Punch & Judy, dance displays, and always live music by local artists.

Come 2022, there was a concerted effort to do something special for the Queen's Platinum Jubilee. Celebrations centred around the special June bank holiday weekend, and the Residents' Association staged the first Heath Fest on June 4. Over 1700 people attended the event which took place on Carrington field and featured fun activities for all, including live music by local talent, street food, and more. There were demands for the event to be repeated and so here we are, on to our fourth Heath Fest, with more and more attractions planned for July 12 this year. Have a great summer locally!

"St Swithin's Day if it does rain, full forty days it will remain. St Swithin's Day if it be fair, for forty days 'twill rain no more." So goes the old poem that supposedly gives an indication as to the what the summer weather will be after St Swithin's Day, which is celebrated on 15th July.

St Swithin has been valiantly predicting the weather for over a thousand years (he died in 863), but he really shouldn't be in the job: weather experts have said that since records began in 1861 there has never been a record of 40 dry or 40 wet days in a row following St Swithin's Day.

The truth is that the weather is beyond our control – it is even beyond the ability of St Swithin to clear the clouds. And while that might be frustrating when the washing is on the line and the skies open, it's usually something we can learn to live with. It is, however, a reminder of a much deeper truth: there is a lot of life we can't control.

As people we like to be in control. It's human nature. But we all know it's really just an illusion. We can't control how life will pan out, and if we give all our energy into trying, we'll only exhaust ourselves. That means that some days will feel like summer: full of blue skies and happiness. And other days may feel more wintery: dark, grey clouds shroud us. What's important is having people around us to accompany us through all these days, to tell us that the clouds will clear and the sun will come out again.

As a church we consider it our privilege to offer a welcome to anyone from our community looking for support and a sense of belonging. And what makes Flackwell Heath such a special place is that there are others doing the same thing – people looking out for one another, making time for one another, and being there for one another, whatever the weather. If you are looking for a little extra support, or someone to talk to, please don't hesitate to get in touch. You don't have to be a churchgoer to share in the life of Christ Church – we are here for the whole village. And don't forget that the church building is open during weekdays if you want a quiet space to sit and reflect.

On Tuesday 22nd July we're looking forward to holding our annual Down Memory Lane Tea Dance & Afternoon Tea, from 2.30-4pm. It's open to everyone in the community, with a particular focus on those living with dementia and their families. There'll be singing, dancing, and a delicious afternoon tea. If you'd like to come, or want to find out more, please do let us know (you can use the contact details below or pop into church).

With the summer holidays fast approaching it's worth mentioning some of the changes to our regular patterns at Christ Church. During Sundays in August, we will only have one morning service at 10am. Our 6.30pm services continue as usual (have a look at the website for more information, or pop into the Church Office). Coffee Stop will be open as usual until Wednesday 23rd July, after which Holiday Coffee Stop will run on Wednesdays only. Usual opening times resume on Thursday 4th September. Do think about popping in, even if you've never been before.

Go gently,

James Dwyer, Vicar of Flackwell Heath

We had so many incredible responses throughout the month of May, all with lovely things to say about our nominees, which we want to share with you.

Leonie Cowlard: "Leonie does such amazing work at Christ Church. We are so lucky to have her." "She really deserves some recognition for her efforts and kindness."

Mr Patel: "Mr Patel sees our community as his family. He makes such a difference to our village." "Our village would not be the same without him."

Camilla China: "Camilla has worked so hard to create an amazing facility to care for animals and people together at Wild Mind Wellbeing." "She is an inspiration".

Congratulations to all the wonderful nominees. What an incredible community we live in! The winner will be announced at Heath Fest on Saturday 12 July and awarded the coveted trophy and a donation of £250 to a village initiative / charity of their choice.

Speaking of which, tickets for Heath Fest are still available! You can purchase at www.fhra.co.uk or at Daisy Gift Shop.

The Big Knit and a big thank you!

One of the Nancie Ross Centre's wonderful volunteers, Rita Liddiard, saw an appeal called The Big Knit, from Innocent Drinks, asking for tiny hats to be knitted to go on the top of their smoothies drink bottles to be sold in places like Sainsburys, and offering £300 for every 1,000 hats knitted. Rita saw this as a fantastic way to help Day Centre funds. Money would go to The Nancie Ross Centre. (Apparently Innocent Drinks do this appeal every few years.)

Thinking it was a big ask (Rita actually called it the Big Ask, not the Big Knit), Rita appealed to the knitters of Flackwell Heath to help. The knitters rose to the challenge. The response was absolutely amazing! Hats arrived in all different shapes, sizes and colours – varying from a strawberry shape to a dinosaur. It seems there was no limit to people's imagination. Gradually the bags were filled. One bag was sent off, another and another, and now the fourth is being filled. The response was unbelievable as hats kept coming. 3,000+ hats later – and £1,000 (so far) raised to swell the Day Centre funds. Wow!

So a HUGE thank you from all the staff, clients, volunteers and trustees of The Nancie Ross Centre to all those generous people who gave up their time and talent. You can rest assured that the money raised will be well spent to further benefit the lives of the elderly clients of the Centre.

Morning WI

June meeting.

Our speaker, Ken Brazier, talked about his experiences on the Pilgrimage to Santiago de Compostela. The pilgrimages started in the Middle Ages when St James' grave was discovered, then declined over the years, but revived in the 1990's, and now well over 200,000 people walk each year, though much less for religious reasons these days.

Having registered for the trip, Ken then was diagnosed with a hip problem which meant walking would not be an option so he decided to cycle with a friend, along the French Way, (800 km) one of nine main routes to choose from. He also discovered that cyclists have to do double the distance to qualify for their certificate!

However he found the trip very rewarding, people helpful and the cathedral in Santiago magnificent. Ken and his wife June (who was in the support team car) have since also worked as volunteer wardens (another talk) at one of the many hostels provided for the pilgrims, who register each time as proof of their journey.

In July we have Dave Sivers telling us about his extra curricular jobs apart from being a civil servant.

Evening WI

We had a very entertaining evening at our June WI meeting. Alan Copeland took us to some very unusual sights in North Island of New Zealand, transporting us to beautiful gardens, old buildings now being rebuilt and reused and some saucy signs. This was all well observed while he was on several holidays in New Zealand over many years.

Don't you just love a surprise – our County Adviser has offered us a speaker for our meeting on Thursday 10th July but we don't know the topic yet.

With no formal meeting in August we decided to have a lovely afternoon cream tea in one of our member's garden, so cross your fingers it will be sunny. It's always lovely to catch up with everyone too.

Fred Gibson – Scout Leader

Assistant Group Scout Leader Fred Gibson was a much valued and long-standing member of the 1st Flackwell Heath Group leadership team, who sadly died on 1st May 2025 in The Florence Nightingale Hospice.

Fred was born on 20th November 1951 in Leeds. In later years he was a member of Christ Church congregation and was for many years a staunch member of the Royal British Legion where he developed a strong connection between the local branch and the Scout Group, often arranging for interaction between the Scouts and the veterans and active servicemen. This also led to him being an integral part of the annual Remembrance Day parade. For many years he worked as a driver for the local bus company.

He was a Scout leader for 45 years, mainly in Flackwell Heath. In 2009 he was awarded the Silver Acorn, a high-level good conduct award, which is only awarded after at least 20 years' service, which should be "specially distinguished and appreciably better than outstanding". He had been Assistant Group Scout Leader for 5 Group Scout Leaders over the last 20 years and had been made the first Flackwell Heath Scout Group President. He was instrumental in organising an international camp to The Netherlands that the Scouts still enjoy every four years - a real highlight for hundreds of Scouts since the 1990s.

Scouts and leaders in Flackwell Heath will remember Fred in many ways - his camp gadgets, his drill and keeping the Scouts looking neat and tidy, his support every week at troop nights and sharing his knowledge and skills with young people and leaders alike, his great sense of humour and his legendary campfires – including his legacy of having young people in south Buckinghamshire singing many campfire songs in a broad Yorkshire accent!

He will be sadly missed in the village, especially by his widow Evelyn and his family.

With thanks to the Scouts for their contributions to much of this article.

Young Bowlers

In recent weeks Bowls England have been promoting bowls to the younger generation. As part of this initiative Flackwell Heath Bowls Club invited a Girl Guides group to come along and try it out. Flackwell Bowls club are fortunate that they have a number of qualified coaches who can teach newcomers how to play and enjoy the game, and Mick Johnson and Sue Fowler were pleased to show the girls enough to get them started. They were soon playing team games between themselves, and a very competitive session ending up with an honourable 5 to 5 shots draw was played out over 6 ends.

The evening finished in the clubhouse with cooked sausages and soft drinks being provided by the club Captain Margaret Stagg.

Bowling can be enjoyed by all ages and FHBC welcome existing bowlers and also new people who wish to try the game. Contact can be made via the club secretary Barbara Shennan at fhbcsecretary@gmail.com

Arnold Funeral Service

People who have lived in the village for more than six years will remember Hughes the builders' yard on the right as you leave the village going down Whitepit Lane. It may come as a surprise to know that this is now the head office of Arnold's the family funeral directors which is run by Peter and Jack Kenyon.

Hughes ceased trading in 2019 and Arnold's purchased the site to create a new and purpose-built head office. The office on the London Road in Loudwater was no longer big enough to meet their needs. All administration and operations have been moved to Whitepit Lane as well as all vehicles previously garaged in a unit on the Loudwater Tech Centre at the bottom of Treadaway Hill.

Sadly, the original Hughes buildings had to be demolished. Apparently it was not easy to find a team that had previous experience of building to the needs of a funeral director. The expectation was that it would be a nine-month build, but the pandemic came along and it ended up taking several years to complete. The building is almost fully sustainable, with 65 solar panels and a ground source heat pump. Numerous trees and shrubs have been planted all around the site increasing the biodiversity.

The new head office supports the five other branches of Arnold's – in Loudwater, Beaconsfield, Marlow, Gerrards Cross and Farnham Common. All the offices are being refurbished to the same specification as the new building to provide a better experience for all their clients. They pride themselves on their efficiency, professionalism and level of support and personal care.

The Kenyon family history in funeral directing dates all the way back to 1880 in London with J H Kenyon. It grew to one of the largest family firms in the country. Interestingly, Kenyon's had the royal contract conducting several notable funerals on behalf of the Royal Family - HM King George VI in 1952 and his mother Queen Mary. J H Kenyon was also entrusted with state funerals such as that of Sir Winston Churchill.

In 1989 the family business was sold and Peter Kenyon sought out a new venture by buying Arnold Funeral Service, a business that had been trading for a couple of years in the building of what is now Mr India in Loudwater, before moving to its present site at 891 London Road. Peter and his son Jack both work out of Arnold's in Flackwell Heath. Jack is now the sixth generation of the family to take on the funeral profession.

We would like to thank everyone for their continued support of our library. It is fantastic to see so many new people coming along each month

In order to keep up with demand can we please put a plea out for some 500 piece jigsaws - we are always running short. Have a look in your cupboards and see what you can find and bring them along next session or contact us via the Community Centre website.

Many thanks

Last month, this picture confused one or two people. No, the hare isn't sitting on snow! It's agricultural fleece.

Community Pantry

The numbers regularly attending the Community Pantry, which runs out of Christ Church, have decreased in recent months. There are a number of reasons behind this positive outcome whereby families are now able to manage household finances. For some, medical emergencies have passed, wider family are supporting, they've been able to find new employment or received mental health support enabling a return to work.

The Community Pantry team pride themselves on the relationships they build with recipients. From registration a simple form (no financial data is ever taken) is completed and a conversation about their situation enables the team to get to know how they may be able to help with access to additional support such as educational, health and finance services via the Helping Hand team at Bucks Council or Social Prescribers.

That said, there are new families arriving who have found themselves unexpectedly not able to cope. The team are now seeing referrals from hospital discharge teams who have asked for help for families in the village.

To manage the range of hygiene, infant and food needs the Pantry still needs support; both financial and in physical donations. Recently, the team were able to settle a young family who unexpectedly arrived with the grandparents while their parents recovered from a period of instability. On this occasion, the Pantry were able to gift additional items to help including an air fryer. A card of thanks mentioned how humbled and grateful they were - not least that their own air fryer had died just days before the grandchildren arrived!

Food needs are posted to the Pantry Facebook page and there are donation bins at various locations in our village. Basket locations are currently being reviewed. If you would like to host please get in touch @ (teamfhcp@gmail.com). For those who'd like to support financially, follow Mission/Pantry from the menu options on the Christ Church website (www.ccfh.org.uk).

25th Anniversary Celebrations Continue

On Saturday 7th June, eighty people from the Oasis Bereavement Group had a great day out on the Thames aboard Hobb's New Orleans paddle steamer. The group left Christ Church aboard a specially hired green double decker bus to travel the short distance to Henley. The steamer set sail from Henley towards Hurley lock, before turning around and heading towards Reading. The trip which lasted four hours was part of Oasis' 25th anniversary celebrations. Afternoon tea was served and passengers were entertained by a wonderful young singer, Ella-Louise Woodhouse and a magician, Michael Wilkes. And talking of magicians, much to everyone's delight, Debbie McGee was primed to give a wave from her riverside home. Richard Chalmers who masterminded the event was relieved to get back to Flackwell without anyone being turned into a rabbit!

Nancie Ross

As we went to press we heard of the death of Nancie Ross. Nancie was the founder of the day centre which now bears her name. She was awarded an MBE in January 2006. We hope to run a short obituary in the September Grapevine. Tributes from our readers are welcomed – deadline 15th August.
