THE NEWSLETTER OF FLACKWELL HEATH COMMUNITY ASSOCIATION

What's been happening

A busy month

...for our Bucks Councillors who have chaired meetings on both our parking woes (see p2) and on the Bucks local plan (see p8).

Road works confusion

Misleading signs warned us of the closure of Straight Bit in the last week of February. Turns out it was for a later week and only footpath work anyway. To add to the confusion, there really were traffic lights from time to time whilst the BT fibre was installed (see p5).

Sally Darby has again been selected to play for England in the Munro Cup (see p7).

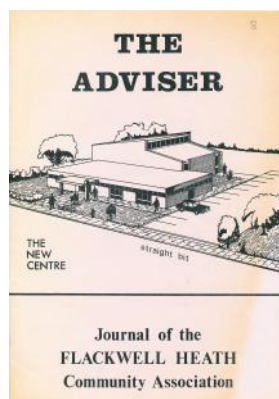

Aries House

Revised plans have been submitted. After all this time, it would appear that the only change is the provision of a loading bay. No attempt has been made to resolve the parking issues. The parish council has strongly objected to the plans and asked for it to be called to the planning committee should Bucks Council be minded to approve.

Alex Ferguson

No, not the footballer. We have recently heard of the death of Alex Ferguson, former headmaster of Juniper school. If you have any memories of him, do please share them with us.

The Adviser

Following on from our report on the early Grapevine issues, we have had sight of an old copy of the Adviser dated June 1972. Amongst sporting reports and more mundane information, this contains references to the Cherry Fayre, a carnival concert, and several nostalgia-inducing ads. By the time you read this the copy should have found a suitable home in the local history section of the library.

Parking in Flackwell Heath

The week before the village-wide parking meeting, Old Kiln Road, in the centre of the village, held its own meeting, allowing residents to discuss the negative effects it has on their lives. Our local councillor, Larisa Townsend, was joined by 27 residents. Issues discussed included:

- parking on the double yellow lines and pavements when the boxing club is open
- vehicles parking opposite the junction in OKR
- driving and parking on the pavements at school drop-off and pick-up times and blocking the access ramps, which are there to assist wheelchair and pushchair users.
- blocking residents' driveways, making it difficult for them to get in or out at school time.
- driving without due care and attention

It was generally agreed that the solution is for the police and Bucks Council to jointly carry out enforcement as they have done recently in High Wycombe.

A car reverses near a child on the pavement in Old Kiln Road.

Parking in Flackwell Heath is an issue that almost every resident in the village will have a view on – and although some ideas may vary slightly, the main issue is that there is not enough of it, and inconsiderate parking needs to be challenged.

Our three Parish Councillors – Larisa Townsend, Stuart Wilson and Penny Drayton held a meeting on Tuesday 11th March at Christ Church to find residents' views – but also, as a community, to see if there are any possible solutions to the problems.

The councillors began by stating they wanted to gather views about the issues from residents, to understand where the particular 'hot spots' of bad and inconsiderate parking are, and to talk as a community about solutions.

It was agreed the village was not built for families with two (or more) cars, or schools where children now come from further afield than the village.

Many specific areas of the village were mentioned as being particularly dangerous. A meeting had been held the previous week with residents of Old Kiln Road (see inset).

The Problems

The main issues raised were –

- Parking on pavements and grass verges causing problems for those with buggies, in wheelchairs or on mobility scooters.
- Lack of disabled parking in the village generally.
- Bowls Club – having to park on Straight Bit for club activities, and particularly difficult when there is a match.
- Problems of parking in and around both Carrington and Juniper Schools.

Juniper have tried to address this with an arrangement to use the Green Dragon Sports ground car park, but some parents seem unwilling to walk that far!

- Charity Shop – has been affected by the problems parking outside the parade of shops there.
- Parking in the bay outside Costa and other shops. People often want or need to be there longer than 30 minutes.
- The lack of enforcement of the existing parking rules.
- Queues on the main road for parking at Sainsbury's, causing hold-ups in the village centre.

Suggested solutions

There were various suggestions made a few of which are detailed below – but it all comes back to the fact that Buckinghamshire Council has no money to buy land for a car park. Councillors were begged to ensure that the parking problem in the village is a major consideration in the planning process.

- Increase the size of the car park at the Recreation Ground. It seems the field is not used for matches, but for training, and it was felt that this would still leave plenty of green space. It would also help the Bowls Club problem.
- If the McCarthy Stone development were to go ahead, it was suggested that there could be basement parking below the shops. One resident – an engineer, confirmed this would be quite feasible and would give more parking spaces for the shops in that parade.
- Parents park on some of Carrington sports field. The councillors will be liaising with the local schools to see how the community can work with them to alleviate parking pressures.

- More enforcement officers - apparently no-one seems to want the job!
- Talk to your MP.

Next Steps

- The councillors will speak to those responsible for enforcement and reinforce the issues and ask for more visits.
- We should have a parking feasibility study done as there is a need to have the data to back up what we, as a community, are saying. But it will cost. We would say what we want them to highlight, ensuring the study was done at a time that accurately reflects the parking challenges in the village.
- If an agreement about using some of the Recreation Ground was reached, the Residents' Association, Parish Council etc, could be asked to help fund, or a Go Fund Me page could be set up.
- Larisa asked for a group of volunteers to go with the councillors to the next meeting to put their case about our parking problems to the whole council. There were several volunteers.

This report has tried to give a sense of what people were saying at the meeting. These are not necessarily the views of The Grapevine.

There is no simple solution to the problem, but it does not mean we must not try to find an answer. In the meantime, please be considerate when you park – and encourage others to do the same.

Every few years the Church of England returns to a well-worn debate: why can't we fix the date of Easter? The contrast is always made with Christmas – everyone knows that is on the 25th December every year, without fail. (At least here in the West – in Eastern cultures it's actually celebrated on 7th January). So why can't Easter be the same?

It's a good question, not least because fixing a date would certainly make life easier in some ways. In case you're wondering how the date of Easter is reached, it's something like this: Easter Day is the first Sunday after the first full moon after the spring equinox. Right then. And for many complicated and at times bizarre reasons, this way of calculating Easter has become so ingrained in our culture here in England that it's stood the test of time. Other churches around the world have fixed Easter but not us, and it means every year it falls on a different date, and we all have to work out when the holidays are going to be and how long Creme Eggs will be available in the shops.

I'm aware there's a risk that you're already beginning to wonder why I'm bleating on about the date of Easter, and I know your time is precious. So let me get to the point: Easter this year is on 5th April, and I'd love to invite you to celebrate Easter with us at Christ Church. Throughout the week leading up to Easter Day – known as Holy Week – we've got a range of services and family activities including an Easter Crafternoon, services on Maundy Thursday and Good Friday, and of course celebrations on Easter Day itself.

We're also looking forward to joining forces once again with the Methodist Church and Residents' Association to run the Village Easter Trail on Saturday 4th April.

You'll find all the information you need about our Easter services and activities on our website, on our social media pages, and on posters at Christ Church. You can always get in touch with us to find out more – our contact details are below. Everyone is so, so welcome to join us at Christ Church, which of course is your church.

If you'll indulge me, I will briefly return to the date of Easter, because there is something a little deeper going on than just a complete inability by the church to make a decision. There's something about the disruptive nature of Easter that seems quite powerful to me. It doesn't arrive when we're ready, or when everything is in good order. Sometimes Easter arrives too early, or too late, or when we're least expecting it. And the reality is life itself can be just as easily disrupted: we all know what it's like to have our "best made schemes" thrown out of the window by an illness, or a change in circumstances, or simply by life's unpredictability.

And so I can't help but wonder, therefore, whether it's really rather a good thing that Easter comes as something of a surprise every year. At the heart of the Easter story is a completely surprising message of hope, something we're all in need of and of which the world certainly is in short supply. As we prepare to tell that story of hope again this year (on the right day), it's a good reminder that it's a story for us all.

However you're celebrating, have a very peaceful Easter.

Go gently,

James Dwyer

Vicar of Flackwell Heath

FHRA Annual General Meeting

The FHRA Annual General Meeting took place on Wednesday 4 March at the Three Horseshoes Pub at 7.30pm. A big thank you to landlady Tarnya for hosting us.

It was wonderful to see both familiar and new faces as we shared the progress made over the past year and discussed our plans for the year ahead.

Members also passed a special resolution to change the charity's legal structure from an unincorporated charity to a Charitable Incorporated Organisation (CIO). This change will help protect trustees from personal exposure to liabilities.

There were several changes to the committee this year, with long-standing members Barbara Hunt, Lenny White and Sammy Aldridge stepping back from their roles. Each of them has given so much to the charity over many years, and we are hugely grateful for their energy, commitment and enthusiasm. Their contribution has helped make our community a wonderful place to live.

Andy Barron has taken over from Barbara as Secretary, and Pam Mannering takes over from Lenny as Vice Chair - a role that joins the many others she has kindly taken on over the years.

Easter Trail

We will be joining forces with our friends at Christ Church and Flackwell Heath Methodist Church to run our annual Easter Trail on Saturday 4 April.

Pick up your trail map from Christ Church between 10.00am and 11.30am, follow the trail around the village, and finish at the Easter Café in the Methodist Church, where there will be tea, coffee, hot cross buns and a prize for every completed trail.

It's fun for all the family - and the best part is that it's completely free.

Heath Fest

There are only a few weeks left to grab Heath Fest tickets at Early Bird prices. It's always a fantastic day for the whole community, and the early bird ticket is a great deal.

Tickets are available now at www.fhra.co.uk.

We are also looking for volunteers to help with set-up, clear-up and marshalling on the day. Anyone who can commit to a two-hour volunteer slot will receive a free ticket as a thank you.

First Aid Meeting

On Wednesday 29 April we are hosting an event with St John's Ambulance. It's at Christ Church Hall, 7.15 for 7.30, and covers how to use a defibrillator and basic first aid in the community. Free to attend and open to all. Just email hello@fhra.co.uk to book a space.

Get in Touch

We always love hearing from residents. Whether you have questions, ideas or feedback - or if you'd like to get involved with FHRA - please get in touch. hello@fhra.co.uk

Morning WI

Regrettably, as forecast last month, we have had to close after almost 34 years. But we intend to continue with our Book Club and monthly Lunch Group and perhaps other social occasions from time to time. We did drown our sorrows in Bucks Fizz, and the wineglasses have gone to a new home.

On a lighter note, and as we now have to dispose of our WI's possessions, we have a lot of white cups and saucers (NOT bone china) available!

By the time the Grapevine arrives we will have counted them up, so anyone interested please contact me.

Brenda Aldridge 01628 525249

Evening WI

As we come to the end of another year our members reflected on the different speakers who have entertained us, covering some wonderful places around the world, including Antarctica and New Zealand. At the Annual meeting we noted the changes at every level of the WI with a 'Zoomed' National Annual Conference as we embrace new technology for the first time.

The Book Group has continued with plenty of different views on a range of books. New to some members is Rummikub, and we have formed a group so everyone has an opportunity to learn how to play. We will end the WI year with a lunch out locally. Next month we hope to enjoy some warmer weather and at the meeting there will be some social time and lively games. Come and join us.

Gardening Advice

On Friday, 6th March, around 30 people attended the Flackwell Heath Allotment Association's "Growing Pains" evening held in the Christ Church Hall. Jono Walne, chairman of the association, acted as host and directed audience questions to a panel of four enthusiasts on a range of horticultural issues. The panellists were asked to introduce themselves, and we learnt that Kim Deards has been a Bonsai enthusiast for forty years, inherited his love of gardening from his father and, despite being a builder, advocates a no-dig philosophy. Katie Ling enjoys growing unusual vegetable varieties and entering competitions.

She has grown commercially for restaurants and has just accepted a job as lead grower at Wye Organic. Jonathan Slack studied Timber Technology at Bucks College. After working in the industry, he returned to Bucks College as a lecturer. In 2021, he joined ReLeaf Marlow, which has so far planted over 2,000 trees. Linda Lewis, a gardening enthusiast since childhood, has tended an allotment in Flackwell since 2010, twice winning first prize in the annual CWPC competition. She gained an RHS diploma in horticulture at Berkshire College of agriculture. As a biochemist, she likes to experiment and find new ways to grow vegetables.

My favourite question of the night was on how to deal with rats. Kim prescribed peppermint oil on a tissue which he finds works very well. Linda agreed, but went on to say that last year she'd tried socks on her sweetcorn, which the rats proceeded to chew through, before she resorted to an army of small garden gnomes, which seemed to do the trick! There is method in her madness; rats apparently don't like change.

As well as the question and answer session, guests were able to take part in a picture quiz on British native flowers and ten anagrams on pests and diseases.

Cupid's bag (6,3) was my pick of the crop and I'll leave you to work it out. Tom Weedon, along with his grandparents, Roy and Debbie King, helped to raise money for the association by running a raffle and selling garden supplies and equipment.

More Fibre

Installation of BT/Openreach's optical fibre network is now under way, as anticipated in the February Grapevine. Many residents will have noticed crews working to install new cables in different locations in the village, and they have also been spotted in Wooburn Green and Bourne End. A lot of the work at this stage seems to be being done by contractors, not Openreach engineers directly. For the most part they have been laying the new cables alongside copper cables in existing underground ducts, so have been causing only minor disruption. There will still be quite a lot of connecting up and testing work remaining to be done, so it is likely to be a few months yet before any of us can order the new service.

FLACKWELL HEATH COMMUNITY LIBRARY

National Year of Reading 2026

This is a yearlong celebration designed to promote the joy of reading, widen participation, and champion the value of reading for all ages. To further support the National Year of Reading, Buckinghamshire has introduced a fines amnesty for children under 5. We know some parents and carers have been reluctant to register their children due to concerns about potential fines. This amnesty removes that worry and aims to help more young families join, borrow, and build positive library habits from the earliest age.

'Read 6 in 2026' is a reading challenge for adults, where, over the course of the year, you read a book from a number of different categories. There are suggested titles for each goal, but feel free to choose a title not on our list.

At the end of the year, all participants who have completed the challenge will be entered into a prize draw!

To sign up go to the Bucks Libraries web site, select 'Borrow a Library Item' then click on the 'Read 6 in 2026' graphic.

Flackwell Heath Station

On 1st April we received this request from Dave Johncock.

Anyone who knows me knows my passion for old railways and so I was intrigued to be given a BR station sign for Flackwell Heath at the end of last year – see photo below.

I was naturally aware of the Old Kiln Light railway and had often wondered whether this had been in the village supporting the old brick works. However, I was recently sent this old photograph of a steam-hauled train standing in the Flackwell Heath station and that got me wondering where the station was located and when the branch line was closed – another Beeching cut??

I am therefore appealing to anyone who has lived here for some time to let me know if they have any information on the branch. Letters via the editor please.

The Munro Cup

The Munro Cup is an international indoor bowls event that takes place each year between England, Scotland, and Wales. It is organised by Learning Disability Indoor Bowls in conjunction with Bowls England. This year, England is the host nation, and the event will be played at Leicester Indoor Bowls Club on the 22nd & 23rd April. Practice day is Tuesday 21st, when the three countries are able to familiarise themselves with the pace of the carpet. And then it's on to the competition proper with a 9am start on the Wednesday.

After undergoing several trials, Sally Darby from Old Kiln Road, has been selected to play in this year's international series. Sally has won gold and silver medals in previous years and is hoping to once again bring gold back to Flackwell Heath.

England are the defending champions, having won the event in Cardiff last April and they're hoping home advantage wins the day. Good luck Sally!

Local Plan

Your editor attended a packed meeting on the local plan in Bourne End on Thursday March 12. By the time you read this it will be too late to comment at the engagement phase, but once the draft plan is announced there will be a consultation phase due to take place from July 29 until September 9. Previous experience of consultations suggests this won't be much of an opportunity to make a difference. All timescales must be adhered to by Buckinghamshire Council under threat of takeover by central government.

Potential site marked in grey. Note the lack of obvious access points.

As far as Flackwell Heath is concerned, the two main areas involved are the sites on the corners of Spring Lane. This includes a potential 130 houses on the college site and a further 97 on the opposite corner. Both areas are currently green belt but downgrading to grey belt is anticipated, at least on the college site. The major argument against, as for many proposed areas on the plan, is the impact of traffic on our limited road system.

There is also a large potential site running up the hill from the disused railway towards Willow Close (see image). This would obviously affect those of us who enjoy walking the fields. However, the threat of development all the way to Whitepit Lane has been lifted.

There is much green belt vulnerability in all this and a re-appraisal is expected for several places in the Wooburn area. Any indication of potential grey belt will obviously be a magnet for developers.

We owe a debt of gratitude to our councillors who managed to make sense of the pretty inscrutable documentation, prepared explanatory slides, and talked us through it. All within an incredibly tight timescale.
